

GEIGER

Geiger Rhythm

DESIGNED BY EOOS, 2016

The needs of offices are as varied as the people who occupy them. That's why Vienna-based firm EOOS designed Geiger Rhythm to make the office feel personal. From the sliding wooden trays to the array of ceramic accessories, Geiger Rhythm allows the people who use a space—residents and guests alike—to configure it to meet their needs.

Comprised of just a few components, the system of wood casegoods and accessories covers a broad visual and functional range, so it works well in executive offices, shared offices, and administrative areas alike.

Geiger Rhythm

DESIGNED BY EOOS, 2016

OPTIONS

While Geiger Rhythm is a smaller product line than a typical casegoods offering, with fewer parts and pieces overall, the level of personalization that it brings to a setting is far greater.

- Wardrobe Storage
- Closed crafted wood overhead storage
- Open metal framed overhead storage
- Storage trays in ash or walnut
- White porcelain containers for work surface storage and customization
- Frame mounted construction as opposed to wall mounted construction
- Intuitive power and technology access at the work surface level and within storage.
- Ambient Lighting
- Height adjustable work surface

BASE PRODUCT NUMBER

Varied

KEY DATES

Start of Order Entry: Fall 2016

LEAD TIME

Unassigned

WARRANTY

12 Years